The reason that I choose to make a new interface for netflix especially in a “Continue watching section” are because

1. The interface is not finding relevant content fast enough.
2. Waste your time on clicking on this icon <, > to slide and see the movies or tv shows.
3. Paradox of choice

First of all, I did this for a desktop platform. I decided to enable a click on the “Continue watching section” to bring the user to another page that will be only the movies and tv shows that user is watching only, this is going to make it more easy for them to select instead of click on this > to slide and see the shows. This is going to be very helpful for users who watch a lot of shows such as Jessica (my persona).

Secondly, I also did the design for the main icon to make it look more attractive. Moreover, I did the new interface for the show recommendation page when you click on the show (you can see when you click on Clash Landing on You / TV shows and Forgotten / Movies). I added the rating and watched the total on the page because these are going to help new users to decide whether to watch this show or not.
