

Orange sand on my shoes
and vibrant blue sky above my head,
It was a freezing day where we'd rather be in bed
We've gone through storm and snows,
got lost and stranded,
but every moment, every sight shared with you was worth all that has happened.

We would joke about how you bring sunshine and I bring the storm, and how together, we create a perfect sunny winterday.
I am east and you are west, but time spent with you will always be the best

It was a crazy leap, you and I,
and it went even crazier as time went by.
The vibrant colors turned blunt as grey as uncertainty flowed in our worlds today.

Cancelled flights, long uneasy nights,
it can get tough without you by my side.
I miss you so much, you don't have a clue
So when this is all over, I'll hug you 'til you're blue.