

New year's in New York

I arrived in New York on the 31st, the streets were filled with red, white and green Christmas decorations and many busy yellow taxis taking people to their destination. I had a great time in my way to the hotel, it was a 40 minutes' drive of black and grey tall buildings, people dressing in red, brown and mostly black coats and landscapes of trees with yellow and brown leaves. When the driver dropped me at my hotel it was very enjoyable, it had a big modern red sign in the entrance and was so close to Times square. My room had white walls with touches of blue colors that made you feel comfortable and calm. Also, from my window I was able to see the view of the brownish water of the Hudson river, that night was raining but the colorful and bright colors of the fireworks lighted up the sky.
