

A hand wearing a yellow protective glove is shown in motion, smashing a black, jagged, star-shaped object through a window pane. The object is partially embedded in the glass, with several sharp, metallic-looking shards protruding from its surface. The background is a blurred indoor setting with a light-colored wall and a window frame. The word "Defenestration" is overlaid in red text across the center of the image.

Defenestration