

An aerial photograph of the New York City skyline, showing a dense cluster of skyscrapers and buildings. The image is taken from a high angle, looking across the city towards the horizon. A large, white, semi-transparent circle is centered over the middle of the image. Inside this circle, the words "NY INSTINCT" are written in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The background shows the city's grid pattern, with various shades of brown, tan, and grey buildings, and some greenery visible in the lower parts of the frame. The sky is a pale blue with some light clouds.
