

MoSCoW method NYIT Connect

Stories:

- The user can log in using their username and password
- The user can access their schedule using the portal
- The user can easily access their grades
- The user can register for classes using the website
- The user can search for specific things inside the portal
- The user can go through a website tutorial whenever they like
- The user can get a confirmation email after they log in for the first time
- The user can upload detailed personal information and a picture
- The user can change their address and email
- The user can log into the portal using the main NYIT website
- The user can save their password for later use
- The user can arrange the icons however they like
- The user can contact school personnel using the website
- The user can see their schedule before finalizing the registration

Must

- The user must log in using their username and password
- The user must access their schedule using the portal
- The user can access their grades
- The user can register for classes using the website
- The user can search for specific things inside the portal
- The user can go through a website tutorial whenever they like
- The user can get a confirmation email after they log in for the first time
- The user can upload detailed personal information and a picture
- The user can add their personal address and email
- The user can log into the portal using the main NYIT website
- The user can save their password for later use
- The user can arrange the icons however they like
- The user can contact school personnel using the website
- The user must see their schedule before finalizing the registration

Should

- The user must log in using their username and password
- The user must access their schedule using the portal
- The user should access their grades using the website

The user should register for classes using the website
The user can search for specific things inside the portal
The user should go through a website tutorial whenever they like
The user can get a confirmation email after they log in for the first time
The user can upload detailed personal information and a picture
The should add their address and email
The user can log into the portal using the main NYIT website
The user can save their password for later use
The user can arrange the icons however they like
The user should contact school personnel using the website
The user must see their schedule before finalizing the registration

Could

The user must log in using their username and password
The user must access their schedule using the portal
The user should access their grades using the website
The user should register for classes using the website
The user could search for specific things inside the portal
The user should go through a website tutorial whenever they like
The user can get a confirmation email after they log in for the first time
The user could upload detailed personal information and a picture
The should add their address and email
The user can log into the portal using the main NYIT website
The user could save their password for later use
The user could arrange the icons however they like
The user should contact school personnel using the website
The user must see their schedule before finalizing the registration

Won't

The user must log in using their username and password
The user must access their schedule using the portal
The user should access their grades using the website
The user should register for classes using the website
The user could search for specific things inside the portal
The user should go through a website tutorial whenever they like
The user won't get a confirmation email after they log in for the first time
The user could upload detailed personal information and a picture
The should add their address and email
The user won't log into the portal using the main NYIT website
The user could save their password for later use

The user could arrange the icons however they like

The user should contact school personnel using the website

The user must see their schedule before finalizing the registration