18 - What were the most effective aspects of this course?

Response Rate	4/10 (40%)

• The videotaped tutorials were a really good idea. Especially appreciated Valerie's videotaped explanations of answers to students' questions, so that the entire group could learn.

• I really liked the choice of using the Adobe CIB -- especially for an online class it was helpful to have the step-by-step guidelines for completing lessons while also having the ad hoc examples from the instructor.

• Valerie was incredibly responsive to questions and with feedback, more than any other course instructor I have worked with online. The book was super helpful and easy to follow and I appreciated how Valerie encouraged exploration outside of the books guidelines.

• Learning through the textbook helped me alot to understand how to do a particular assignment.

19 - What, if any, suggestions do you have for the course?

Response Rate	2/10 (20%)

• I would've appreciated a little bit more guidance for the final project -- I think the emphasis of adding something to your portfolio is a great idea -- but since this was a basics class I found it a bit challenging to try and create something when everything we had done leading up to the final was muscle memory exercises with the Adobe CIB (which have been great!). I would expect a more open-ended creative projective for a next-level class or one that had the entire semester.

• I wish we would have been able to get through more of the book and into more techniques,but I realize this is due to time constraints.

20 - Please comment on your instructor's teaching effectiveness:

• Valerie is clearly highly trained, passionate about what she does, and eager to share her knowledge. It might be that a few of the videotaped tutorials were not at the "basic" level, and some of the concepts and processes were not explained clearly enough for this group of beginners.

• Really enjoyed how thorough she was with her instructions, video tutorials, articles and emphasis on the using the CIB but being allowed to be "outside the lines" of the book's instructions.

• Very helpful, easy to talk to, prepared, responsive. My one instructor online who I could count on to answer a question asap.

• The teaching was very understandable and helped me widen my range of skill in design.

• I feel satisfied with my knowledge coming out of this course and am happy I took it. Thanks!
