This feature is called "Bill Splitting"

I have an idea to add this feature into the Venmo app in order to solve the problem when group or big group of people go somewhere together and have a problem with bill splitting because each person buys, eats, uses, etc. different things and also different amounts.

From the reason mentioned above, this idea comes up in my head then I try to make the 1st prototype(this one) look similar to what's in my head as much as possible.

This app include 4 features

- Add people (Who involve with this bill)
- Add order (What you have ordered and who ordered that)
- Receipt scan (To save your time filling out those information)
- Bill Splitting (Use the information above to calculate the bill)
