

"We can all be creative, we can all be explorers, we can all be philosophers and poets."

"We must remember that there is always hope, that it is a path that we choose and not a destination that we reach."