Not so favorite colors

I found this exercise quite difficult! I genuinely had a hard time finding colors I don't like. If I isolate some of the colors chosen in the "not so favorite" wheel, they actually are quite nice. A few of the colors have associations tied to them that contribute to the reasons why I don't love them.

As for my "favorite" colors, I think the palette as a whole is one I gravitate towards. I spent so much time using the Adobe color picker that the more I looked at these colors the more I second guessed whether I liked them at all!
