Import from Google Search

User comes across a search engine result that sparks interests and decides to add it to app.

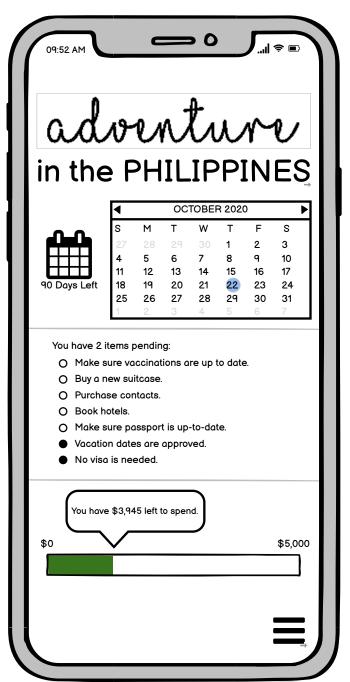

After pressing the Share button, user presses Adventure app.

User is instructed to enter details in order to add it to the itinerary. Category has a dropdown menu. Then, they have the option to either go back to their original page in preferred browser or go to the Adventure app.

Homepage 2 / 8

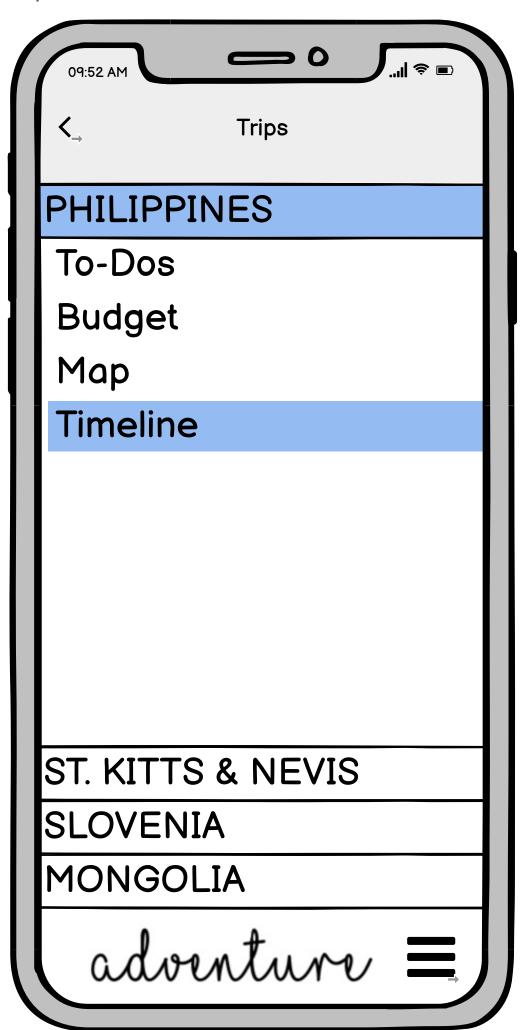

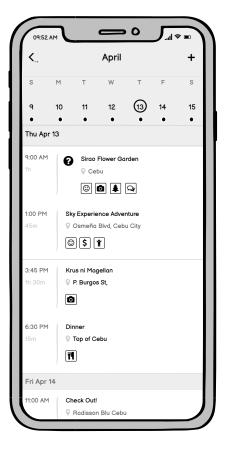

What user sees if they decide to go to the app. They are shown the primary trip they are planning for and given a basic summary. Clicking the name of the country will bring the user to the trip page.

Trips 3/8

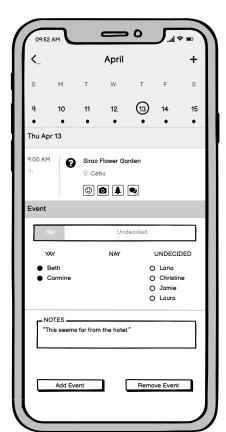

The user's trip planning are organized by a target location and broken down by to-dos, budget, map, and timeline requirements needed by those locations.

Timeline 4 / 8

Timeline shows calendar of events (bookings, excursions, hotel check-out times, etc.). User have the chance to categorize and comment on events in the timeline.

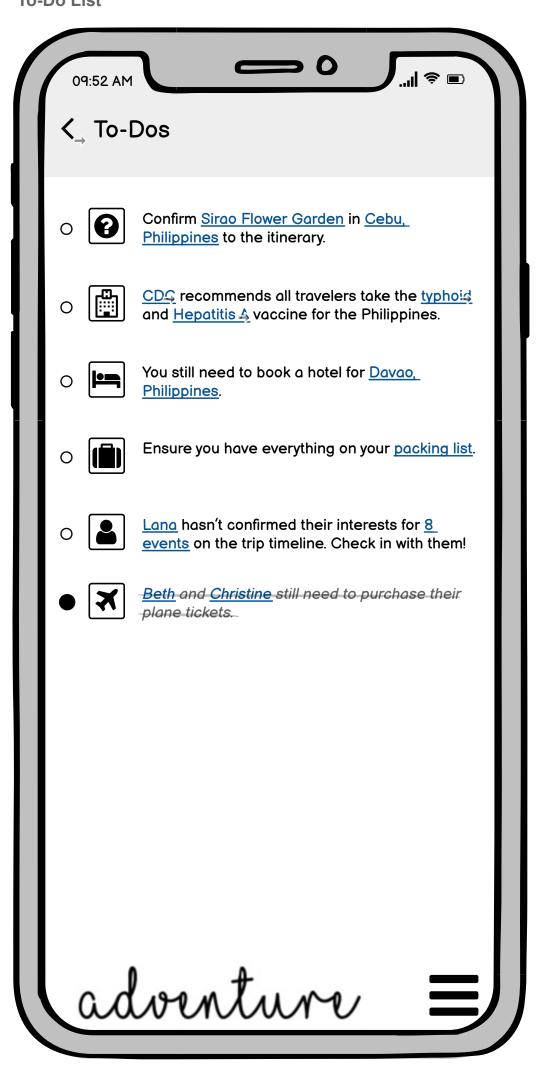

Clicking on the chat icon, allows user to pull the chat history on the event.

Clicking the question mark button give further insight on how the travel group voted and if there's any concerns from the NAY and UNDECIDED voters. Depending on responses, user may add or remove event from itinerary.

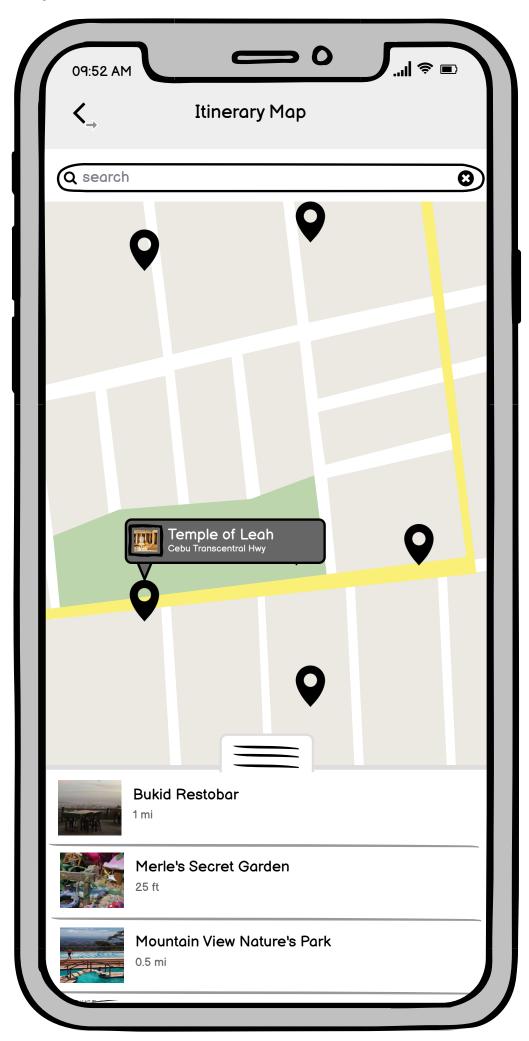

If user taps + button on timeline, a window pops up to add new event details.

To-Do List

5/8

Map 6 / 8

Starbucks Coffee

Map allows the user to map out their itinerary and to see other potential places nearby to optimize the user's time.

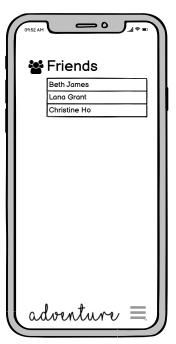

Budget shows the details of the allocated budget to this trip and a breakdown of the expenses.

Settings 8 / 8

User has the option to change their basic settings here. User may press the hamburger menu or Trips to look at their list of trips again.